

Movie of the Month: As it is in Heaven

December 17th at 7:30

A beautiful heartwarming movie of a group of people finding first love and then their inner power of transformation.

This movie won the academy award for the best foreign film in its category. If you want to enrich your holiday season don't miss it. It's my new favourite movie.

The Library

Regrettably our book supplier has not been able to obtain our "Book of the Month" for November, namely Paul Ferrini's "Miracle of Love". Hopefully we will be in receipt of it early in the New Year.

Meanwhile we continue to recommend;

Excuses Begone by Wayne Dyer

The Shack by William P. Young

Science of Mind by Ernest Holmes

Happy readings and Blessings,
Thelma

Christmas is upon us and for us in New Thought it is the celebration of the birth of the Christ consciousness in each of us, realizing that the outer figure Jesus and the story built around him is the story of our journey of awakening. We understand that this is our personal story. With that awareness this event takes on a whole new meaning. Even the trappings that have built up around it have meaning.

The lights symbolize the Christ light within. The evergreen tree is symbolic of the eternality of the life principle that is alive in us. The gifts brought to the new born Jesus speak of the gifts of spirit.

A very enlightening exercise is to write your life story and find the Jesus story within it. Where in your journey do you find a parallel of the painful trek that Joseph and Mary took to Bethlehem? And as Scripture says, "Mary was big with child." Sounds darn uncomfortable to me. Then, there's no room at the inn. Now this was call to at least give in to irritation. But that's not how the story goes, they quietly and faithfully carried on and the right doors opened. A good question is where in my life is there by appearances no room at the inn? Where do I need to just keep quietly walking in faith?

This can be an enlightening exercise. Enjoy!
Merry Merry Christ birth,
Kim

President's Remarks

This month is a moment for reflection on the most recent events in our Community. The loss of Dan Millar is a significant loss not only to Anne and his family, but to all of us at the Positive Living Centre. He made a very large ongoing commitment to the Centre which will affect the future development of all aspects of our community. He will be fondly remembered by us all as the gracious and spirit filled person that we knew and loved.

The Board has had a number of items that we have attempted to deal with, and these have included;

- (a) The loss of the service provided by the Amazing Grays to the Treasure Table. Fortunately we have others who have stepped forward to continue the tradition.
- (b) We have looked at efforts to improve our communications by upgrading our website. The need for highly skilled (and costly) specialized services has brought the efforts to a temporary pause.
- (c) We are currently working on a permanent Positive Living Centre sign to be located outside the building so that all may be aware of our existence and location.
- (d) We have been in preparation for the Annual General Meeting which requires early notification of all members and will be in February 2010.

We presently have a very generous and loving community which is growing almost every week, and we look forward to the expansion of the Centre with joyful anticipation.

And so it is.
Tony Dann, President of the Board
